

CLIENT HUB

Your home base for personalized training, nutrition, check-ins, progress, and direct coach support.

Use this quick walkthrough to know exactly where to start and what to do next. Your path is simple: complete your consultation, sign the Online Program Agreement, then use Train and Food consistently.

START HERE

New client? The in-app starter guide appears after login. Tap Next to move through each step, Back to review, or Skip if you are ready.

Consultation + agreement

Complete your consultation

Open Onboarding and share your goals, training history, schedule, body stats, allergies, medications, and anything else your coach should know.

Sign the Online Program Agreement

Open Agreement, review the terms, and sign online. This unlocks the rest of your client path.

If either step is still required, Client Hub will guide you there first. You can still skip the starter walkthrough and return to it from Settings.

Where to go

After login, follow the in-app prompt or open Settings → Client Hub help to replay the guide and download this PDF.

Find today's workout

Open Train to see your program and today's workout. Open an exercise to review its demo, then log your sets as you complete them.

Train with intent

Use the prescribed exercises, sets, reps, and notes as your starting point. Consistent logs give your coach useful information.

Log what you do

Mark sets complete and add weight or reps when available. Your progress history helps guide future adjustments.

Need help? Open Messages to ask your coach about an exercise, a modification, or anything that affects today's session.

Eat with a plan

Open Food for your meal plan, macro targets, and daily log. Use it to keep your nutrition visible and make adjustments with your coach.

Review your plan

Check the meals and targets your coach has set for the day. The plan is personalized around your food, life, and goals.

Log your meals

Add meals as you go so your daily totals reflect reality. If a day is different, message your coach rather than guessing.

ANTMAN uses flexible dieting—not crash diets. The goal is a system you can keep long term while still making progress.

Messages + check-ins

Talk with your coach

Open Messages for your direct coach thread. Ask questions, share updates, and attach files when a photo or document helps explain what you need.

Stay current

Use Check-in for your weekly update and Progress to review trends and photos. Honest data makes better coaching possible.

Everything runs online through your coaching app: nutrition, training, weekly check-ins, and messaging. In-person training is available if you want hands-on sessions.

Reminders, FAQ, and notifications

Open Settings to control reminders, quiet hours, timezone, and device notifications. You can also replay the starter guide and download this PDF anytime.

Lock-screen notifications

Choose Enable device notifications when available. If no VAPID key is configured, Client Hub still provides in-app reminders.

Client FAQ

Settings includes an accordion with answers from antmanfitness.com. Open it whenever you have a common coaching question.

Quick FAQ

Coaching is delivered through the app; favorite foods do not need to be cut; beginners are welcome; results depend on starting point and consistency; bodybuilding prep is available; and getting started begins with the website's 45-second form.
